

Dear Students,

Summer is here. While you are resting and recharging, I hope you'll not forget Chinese. Here is your summer reading. There are 35 short books. Some of them are very simple and easy and some a little bit challenging. Your assignment is to choose 3 sentences each from Book 23 to Book 35. These 3 sentences from each of those books have to be copied by hand with pinyin and English translations. You will turn them in on the first day when we all get back to school.

Enjoy the summer and I'll see you around at school when you become sophomores! So looking forward to it!

Love you all,

常老师
