

THE GIL HASKELL GAME

A San Francisco Prep Football Tradition!

The Gil Haskell Trophy St. Ignatius vs. Riordan

This trophy was established by St. Ignatius College Preparatory and Archbishop Riordan High School in 2015 in honor of Gil Haskell (SI '61) and awarded annually to the winner of the varsity football game between the school. Gil coaches at both institutions (Riordan 1965-68) and St. Ignatius (1972-77).

Gil notable won two Rose Bowls with USC and a Super Bowl win with the Green Bay Packers in 1996. Coach Haskell is a role model for all generations of Wildcats and Crusaders, and his work ethic, tenacity, and passion are representative of the best qualities on this long-standing City rivalry. The series record of the schools at the time of the establishment of this trophy was St. Ignatius 27, Archbishop Riordan, 21, with one tie.

Haskell served as an assistant coach at USC (1978-82) before embarking on a nine-year stint for the Rams under John Robinson, another Bay Area native. With the Rams, Haskell was in charge of special teams for four years, then was running backs coach from 1987 through '90. His prized pupil then was Pro Football Hall of Famer Eric Dickerson. After the Rams, Haskell coached with yet another Bay Area native, Mike Holmgren, from 1992 through '97, helping the Packers win Super Bowl XXXI, a 35-21 victory over the Patriots.

From there, Haskell became the offensive coordinator for Carolina (1998-99) and the Seahawks (2000-08) before acting as senior adviser and president of the Browns (2010-12). Now 74, Haskell is retired and living in the North Bay. Like the other inductees, Haskell is being honored for his contributions locally, though surely he'll tell stories of his NFL glory days during his enshrinement at the Spanish Cultural Center – Patio Español Restaurant.
